Guaranteeing Future Connectivity

If you are the original purchaser of the AR Platinum Series HDMI cable and you made such purchase from a distributor, retailer or reseller who was authorized to sell you the cable and such distributor, retailer or reseller sold it to you in our original packaging, Acoustic Research will provide one free upgrade for this cable on the following terms and conditions.

If you purchase HDMI-capable devices in the future and you experience difficulty in transmitting data over this AR Platinum Series HDMI cable, please visit the AR cable website at acoustic-research.com to troubleshoot your HDMI connection. If after going through the troubleshooting guide you determine that you do have a cable capacity issue, follow the directions at the end of the troubleshooting guide to apply for an upgrade. You must have your AR Platinum Series HDMI cable and the receipts for your HDMI-capable devices to be eligible for this cable upgrade program.
